

COURAGE UNWRAPPED

(Death to Fear)

A DOCUMENTARY. 100 WOMEN.

January 20, 2010

Dear Fear-defying friend,

We're excited to produce a documentary that will charge women worldwide to get up every day and defeat FEAR. We know that fear is a constant enemy – especially with women. But, we also know that once fear is defeated, we empower others to win.

You were selected to receive this invitation. This is not by accident.

As we start the pre-production phase, our mission is to showcase women from all walks of life, all ethnicities, nationalities, economic situations, ages and beliefs because fear has no favorites – it bullies us all. But, we're convinced that your story will be someone else's story and you will help them win the war against fear, doubt and defeat.

This is a collective effort. We are asking everyone to pitch in and sponsor themselves, sponsor a woman they mentor, or ask for a sponsor to support them (Total $495).

There are many tangible benefits in participating in this powerful film project, such as:

1. Sharing your story in the documentary
2. Networking with the other 100-women
3. Promoting, PR, and sharing your profile to our 3k email lists
4. Receiving Social Media posts
5. Being invited to the Los Angeles Premiere or attending by Live-stream
6. Attaching your name with our Celebrity narrator (TBA)
7. Getting a tax write-off (if donated through our connected non-profit)
8. Being granted a 2-year membership to ThatAGirl TV (A streaming channel like Netflix and Hulu.)
9. If you're a sponsor, you'll receive all the benefits above, plus additional press for participating in the social good to empower women globally.

And, of course, the most important intangible benefit of all -- Knowing that you are helping women defeat fear!

So, would you prayerfully consider being a part?

Remember, you don't have to feel ready to participate. This is not a film about status or personalities. It's about taking on fear – and defeating it day-by-day!

Feel free to personally contact me.

Sincerely,

Vikki Wells
